Property Description

Maison La Cachette is an interesting property to renovate at the heart of the picturesque village of Vacheresse. The property dates from the late 19th century and offers the potential for a either a large family house or chambre d'hotes.

On the main floor is a dining room, kitchen plus another 3 rooms. This is then connected to the older part of the house which has another 4 rooms and a WC.

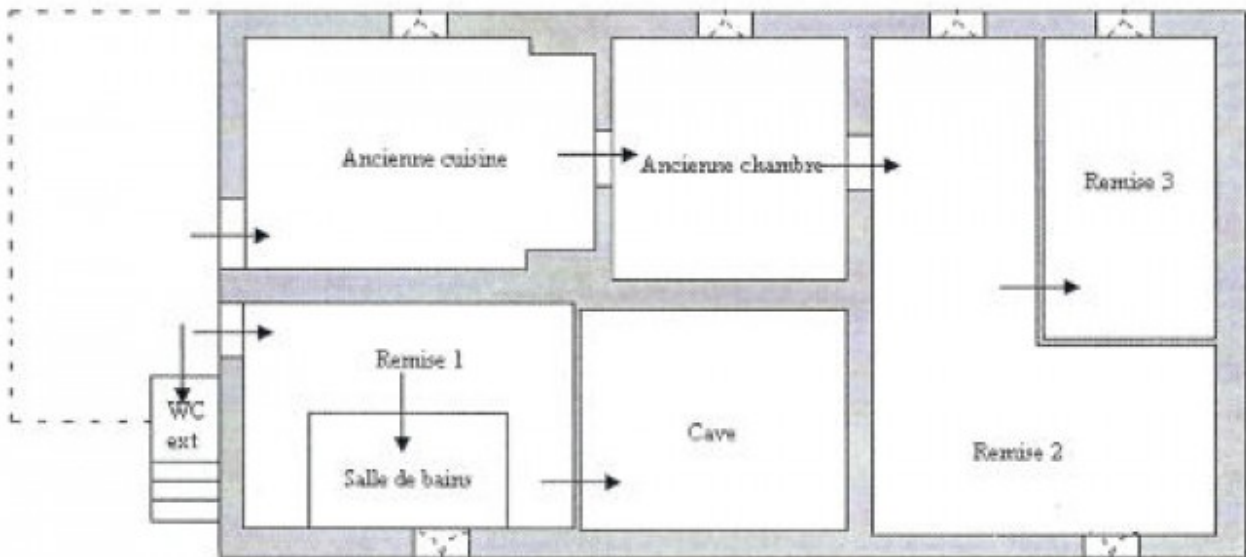

Upstairs is an impressive attic space which runs the full length of the building.

Downstairs are a number of additional rooms which could be incorporated into the main house.

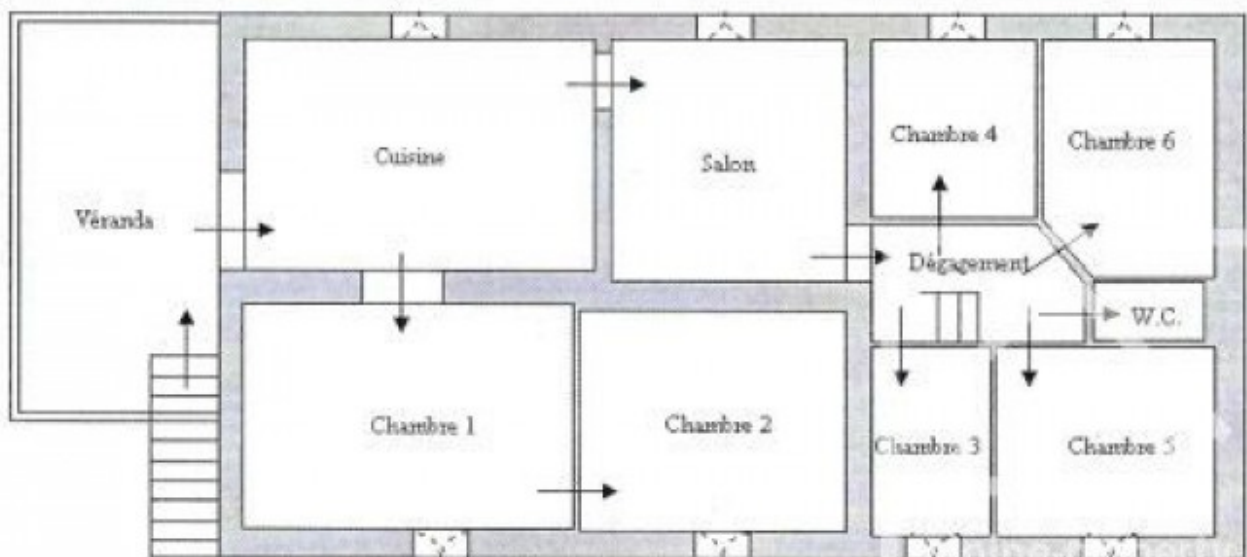

This property has lots of character, history, and a number of interesting features (including an ancient stone trough fed by a spring where village residents used to wash their clothes).

Vacheresse is an attractive village in the Abondance valley not far from the ski areas of the Portes du Soleil and Bernex, and also a short drive from Lac Lemman and Evian.
