Property Description

Situated at 1290m in a small hamlet, this chalet d'alpage nestles facing North, across a bubbling stream with views of the Niffion peaks. Access would be by ski touring or snow shoes in the winter (a steady gradient walk for about 2km). In summer you can drive to the property along a gravel track.

The ground floor has a corridor to the kitchen/living area, a bedroom and the original stables. Above is the barn with approximately 100m² of floor space and plenty of height for a mezzanine. The barn doors open southwards with a level area outside. The land surrounds the property, although the bulk of the 2500m² is behind the building. A small strip of land connects to the stream.

The property will be sold with a new septic tank installed and there are options for connecting to a local water source. The roof needs replacing and electricity would need to be supplied by solar panel or a generator.

Other chalets in the hamlet have been renovated, or are in the process of renovation, so there is a nice community 'feel' to the area.

From the start of the tarmac road, access to the local ski area would take 6 mins and the village of Bellevaux 4 mins. Geneva airport would be 50mins drive.
